

I'm not sure if this is the right forum for this comment, but I'm very, very concerned about discussion to remove media ownership restrictions in a given area. I understand that media companies want this to help them compete with the cable industry but this is not the way to do this. We need to continue to limit the amount of ownership of media by individual company. Please consider this carefully as you make a decision on this very important issue. No matter how unbiased media companies say they are there are always biases. I hope this is clear.
